Spring Semester Update: EOPS Counselors Offer Supplies Curbside, Library Staff Delivers Course Materials by Appointment, and the Learning Center Provides Online and Limited In-Person Tutoring

Across the board, Taft College employees have stepped up their levels of student service in order to meet the added constraints imposed by the pandemic. To keep everyone safe, methods of materials delivery, library service, and tutoring were immediately re-envisioned. EOPS counselors scheduled two curbside pick-up days to hand off supplies to their students. Open Monday through Wednesday, the library is checking out laptops, wifi hotspots, calculators, engineering class kits, and DSPS technology, asking that students order their needed materials online and then pick them up by appointment when library staff alert them to do so. The Learning Center also moved online to deliver tutoring services and has now added back in-person tutoring on a limited basis. Thanks to all our supporting staff for going above and beyond!

Taft College
2021 Activity
Challenge Begins with “Spring Forward”

On February 1, Dr. Debra S. Daniels launched a 100-day activity challenge called, “Spring Forward.” In this new challenge, there are three categories in which to participate: Physical Activity, Mindfulness Activity, and Weight Loss. For the Physical and Mindfulness Activity categories, participants will log their type of activity and number of minutes every day for each period of 15 days. For the Weight Loss category, participants will log just the number of pounds and ounces lost over each 15-day period. Totals are then sent to Dr. Daniels to tally. Weight loss participants will be able to calculate the total percentage of body weight lost to determine a winner. Participants can choose one or a combination of activities. Of course, there will be prizes along the way and a commemorative t-shirt for each participant. Good luck to everyone on this “Spring Forward” pursuit of better health!
